

Evening ILLUSTRATED Ledger

SATURDAY
January 2, 1915

PERSONS AND EVENTS IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY FROM CITY, NATION AND THE WORLD

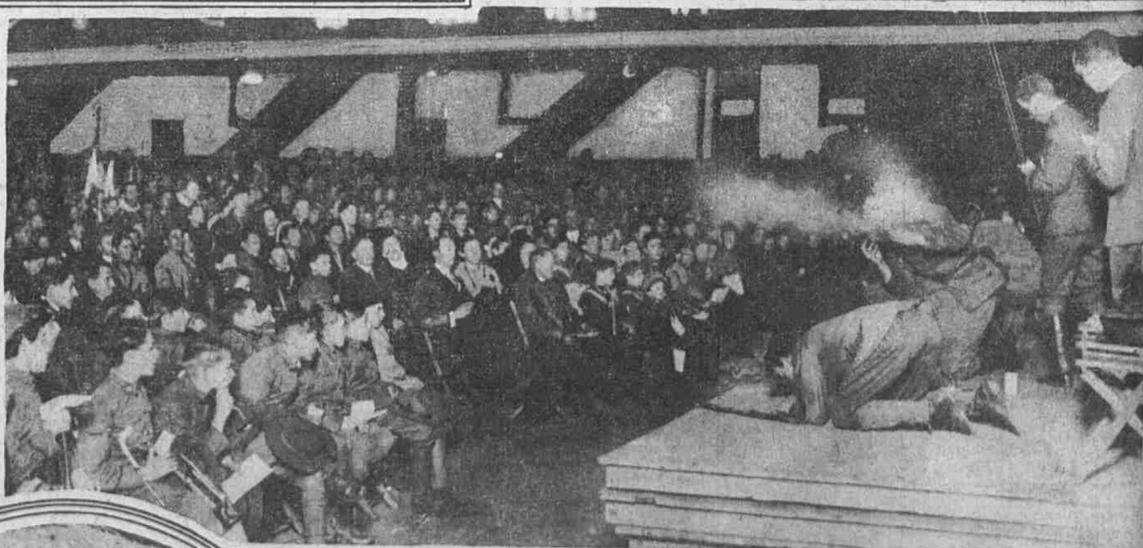

PANORAMA VIEW OF ARTILLERY DUEL IN THE ARGONNE FOREST IN FRANCE
Modern warfare as now waged with the Germans is frequently one long artillery duel. This is really all one sees when such a duel is in progress. The picture shows a French battery shelling the German lines.

PRESIDENT'S NIECE MOVIE STAR Photo by Bain.
Miss Margaret Vale recently had a letter from the President in which he expressed "the sincere hope that you are happy and successful in your new undertaking." She is to appear in a photoplay now being prepared.

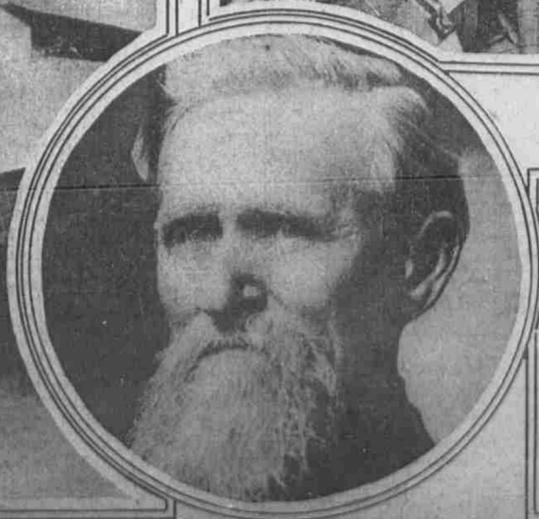

HOMELESS MEN GET A TURKEY DINNER AT BREAKFAST ASSOCIATION
More than 1500 men were entertained at the Sunday Breakfast Association's headquarters, 12th and Race streets, yesterday. A few women who joined the line waiting outside before the serving of the dinner began were not turned away, but invited to partake of the good things with the rest.

BOY SCOUTS MAKE A FIRE ON STAGE WITH OLD-FASHIONED BOW AND DRILL
One of the features of the rally in the 2d Regiment Armory yesterday was a demonstration of the way to coax a blaze from dry wood without the aid of a match, according to the old method used by hunters and woodsmen of pioneer days. It aroused the keen interest of every boy present, needless to say.

SCIENTIST TALKING WITH PET MONKEYS
Dr. John D. Jones, of the A. T. Still Research Institute, Chicago, declares monkeys have a language in which they express definite ideas.

HIS NAME IS CYCLONE DAVIS
J. H. Davis, as he signs himself, will be one of the interesting figures in the new Congress. He is from Texas and, of course, is a Democrat. He is now in his 20 years.

GIRL SCOUTS WHO PAID VISIT TO BOYS AT ARMORY
From left to right—Elsie Cobb, Emma Boentgen, Captain A. Feltner, Marion Pellock and Dorothy Hart. They are members of Troop 78, Red Root Camp, West Philadelphia.